The Chautauqua Valley Railroad.

The Washington Reporter of Saturday, speaking of the efforts of the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions of stock, says the committee have not been so successful as they hoped to be, but there are with sufficient encouragement to warrant them in continuing the work. They urge persons on the line of the Road to continue their efforts, and procure all the subscriptions possible, and tell them to bear in mind that they themselves have the work to do, and that the time for doing it is rapidly drawing to a close. The Reporter says: "Business in Pittsburgh should remember that this road will secure to them a vast amount of trade from this quarter which, for want of communication, has been diverted into other channels, and those of our friends who are prone to lend a helping hand, may confidently rely upon discrimination being made in their favor by each of our people as our purchases goods in their city." It also suggests another feature worthy of consideration. It will go far towards making up the amount which the business men obtained over their notes. "The great bulk of our merchantile productions is the shape of butter, eggs, poultry, &c., find their way to the city through the medium of those hucksters, are less than one hundred and fifty of whom traverse our county each week, gathering from our farmers whatever they have to dispose of in that line. Estimating the annual sources charged by these middling dealers upon the marketing taken to the city at $5,000 each, which is certainly within the mark, it is shown that the people of the city pay yearly one hundred thousand dollars in the shape of profits upon the dairy and other products that go from our county into their market." By opening up railroad communication and thus affording ready and cheap transportation into the producers and consumers of them articles would be largely benefited, for, while the farmer would get better prices than they are now able to obtain, the latter could pay us all such products at far less rates than they are at present compelled to pay. Naturally, therefore, to whatever light we choose, the road would certainly prove immensely advantageous to the people of both city and country, and hence all classes unite in pushing it forward to completion.

Manufactures and Trade.

The operations of the iron are limited some little during the week of many as to how far they were limited and how be correct. An Assessor of New York, writing to one of Boston, wrote for instructions and received information as follows:

"Under the former law the two re-manufacturers carried when they were sold, one of one owned by the manufacturer or dealer, and the other upon sale of manufacturer. Under the present law, both manufacturers and dealers are to pay the tax of $1 per $1,000 on capital employed and not on amounts of sales, as on goods manufactured and delivered to the parties who purchase. The manufacturer is to pay on the capital employed in the manufacture, but also made it up to the dealer, and also dealer made it up to the consumer, and so on, until the end of the month succeeding the six months in which they were made. Under the present law the manufacturer is entitled to deduct from his capital employed in manufacturing the amount of taxes he has paid on goods sold to dealers, and so on down to the consumer, who may make his return for the year, and pay the tax thereon to the Assessor."

The iron is being put into forms against other deliveries of the season. As soon as there is a conviction, increased prices are added to some and the Pittsburgh mills will be compelled to refund the money taken from private pockets. The Attorney General will reply on the 8th inst.

MEN VANE.

LOUISIANA.

The Legislature Takes the Back Track, "Out of Respect for the Wishes of the General," &c.

New Orleans, July 1.—This morning before the hour for assembling of the Legislature, a section of artillery and squadron of cavalry prepared for service occupied Lafayette Square. Two companies of the First Infantry, commanded by Captain Velle, occupied the sidewalk fronting Mechanics' Institute, and a large body of police were on duty in and around the building. No one was allowed to approach who could not show a ticket of admission. Appearances indicated that trouble was expected. Col. General Sheil, of General Buchanan's staff, were also present.

The Senate was called to order at quarter past twelve. But few Democrats were present. The full body of members who took the test oath, except Campbell, who was stated yesterday, was called.

After the minutes were read, the Committee to which Gen. Buchanan's order was referred yesterday, reported they were of opinion the action of the President in reporting members to the oath the test oath should be fully sustained. A few report, however, to the wishes of the General, and in deference to the wishes of the United States to have the Committee to recommend a discontinuance of the test oath, and hereafter members should be allowed to qualify in accordance with the Constitution of the State.

A motion that the first paragraph be stricken out created considerable discussion, and finally it was laboured. The report was then adopted as a whole fixing the commencement.

A motion was made that the roll furnished by the commanding General be called, of all members willing to be sworn in under the Constitution. In calling the roll, the name of Campbell, omitted yesterday by the Election Committee, was omitted, though he presented himself to be sworn in.

Nearly all Democratic members took the constitutional oath. Several motions were offered when Mr. Lynch called attention to article 16 of the constitution, which states that no action of any board can be legal by the Legislature by all unless upon the 11th amendment. The Committees on Elections were discharged, that a new one might be appointed, to which the Governor's message will be referred. Mr. Lynch will probably take his seat to-morrow, and business be more proceed regularly.

House proceedings were of a similar nature, but the oath was not administered to members. Many did not qualify. Only the names of those who had previously taken the test oath were called on answering. Subsequently, when the roll was called of those who had not qualified, but of those qualified under the Constitution, but many will probably do so to-morrow. The House permanently organized by the election of Lynch to the Speakership. Mr. Lynch then made a resolution ratifying the fourteenth amendment by 76 yeas to 5 nays. A resolution offered by Pope W. Noble, one of the three Democrats who voted for the test oath, was adopted as returned by General Buchanan he said and members qualified whether they are reinstated or not, was tacked. The following was then read:

Resolved, That there not discrimination in the payment of members who have been sworn in under the Constitution, as allowed by the oath.

It is stated authoritatively that the application for the pardon of the military was made by two Democratic Senators elected.

Public orators often make great mistakes. Thus the public orator at Cambridge, when declaiming a Latin oration on what Longfellow had written ascribed to him the authorship of Enoch Arden. The poem is Tennyson's, but one has was crowned at the time of its appearance of stealing that laurel from an American authoress. That fact was, perhaps, in the orator's mind when he blundered.

The Tax Bill in Senate Committee.

New Tariff Bill Reported.

Gen. Moorhead Thinks Action Can be Had Upon It.

TAXATION OF INTEREST ON BONDS.

Prospects of the Funding Bill.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

Washington, D. C., July 1, 1868.

The Sutro Tunnel Job.

The House Committee on Mines and Mining, consisting of Ashley, of Nevada; Kasson, of Indiana; Ashley, of Ohio; Farnsworth, of New York; Driggs, of Michigan, and McKinney, of Oregon, have unanimously reported in favor of the Sutro Tunnel job. They recommend government aid to the amount of five million dollars, at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per foot, and would secure the United States by taking a mortgage on the tunnel and everything pertaining thereto, and by taking the entire income in payment after the tunnel is finished to Comstock lode. The bill isn't likely to get through, at the present session at least.

An Ominous Confirmed.

A prominent Ohio Democrat here urged the President to withdraw the nomination of B. W. Fleming, of Piqua, as Assessor of the Fourth Ohio District on that after advisement he might appoint a Democrat, but the Senate to-day confirmed Fleming at the instance of the Ohio Senators.

The Tax Bill.

The Finance Committee did not succeed in finishing the tax bill to-day, but the chairman says they will certainly report it to-morrow. They think it right and felt this morning and made some important amendments. The session lasted from ten o'clock this morning until after midnight. The question of increasing the bank issue was stricken out by a decided vote. The various sections establishing and relating to bonded warehouses for ping tobacco were also retained, but this part of the bill may be taken up again to-morrow morning. There was considerable discussion about the provisions relating to wholesale dealers, and the probabilities are that the Committee will restore many parts of the present law on this subject. They are also opposed to the proposed increase of the retail dealers' special or license tax. All efforts to get them to incorporate the provisions regulating whisky export warehouses into the bill have failed.

The Tariff Bill.

The Ways and Means Committee this morning had the two months' notice on the tariff bill come up for final action. The duty on cotton woollings, &c., which was pounding out as a certain figure per square yard, was changed to a duty ounce per pound. A paragraph was added changing the present rate on books, and the duty on unbleached rice was increased to one and one-half cents per pound. Mr. Allison alone voting against signing the bill. Mr. Schenck stood favorably, with a person against action. Mr. Hooper voted the same way, thinking it best to let the House dispose of the bill in its own way. The other members who voted for reporting were Messrs. Woodward and Kasson, the former of whom is the only member of the Committee who believes in putting on the dutiable list the numerous articles now free. He will try to get a vote of the House on Friday.

Tax on Bonds.

The bill levying ten per cent. tax on the interest on Government bonds is ready to be reported from the Ways and Means Committee. It is brought in by order of the House on Ben. Butler's motion, but all the members of the Committee except Logan, and possibly one other, are opposed to it, and will protest against its passage. The effect of it will be to tax bonds now paying six per cent. interest, but hereafter pay but five and two-fifths per cent., those paying five per cent. will hereafter pay but four and one-half per cent., and bonds paying three per cent. will hereafter pay but two and seven-tenths per cent.

The Funding Bill.

The weight of indications for the last two or three weeks has been that Congress would not pass any funding bill at the present session of Congress. An effort is now making to change the views of members, and to this end a caucus of Republican Senators was held this morning, at which Fessenden, Morton, and others from the Finance Committee, strongly urged action in this direction. No vote was taken, but several Senators are now of opinion that the bill may still be got through before adjournment.

More Territory.

Secretary Seward is having a goodly sized volume on Greenland and Iceland printed at government expense. The general drift of such pieces of it as have been seen by outsiders is to show that those countries are quite valuable, and that they ought to belong to the United States. The fact serves to give color to a story afloat in diplomatic circles to the effect that Mr. Seward will soon present the Senate with a treaty between our government and Denmark for their purchase.

Court of Claims.

The Court of Claims till become a law to-day without the President's signature. It enlarges the powers of that Court and abolishes the offices of Solicitor and two assistants. It also legislates Bradley out of office and authorizes the President and Senate to appoint two assistant Attorney Generals, who will their chief shall be the business for the government in the Supreme Court and Court of Claims.

Removal of Gen. McDowell.

The President's action in removing General McDowell from command of the Mississippi and assigning General Gillem to duty in his place, grows out of McDowell's course in reference to State officers. He recently removed the Governor and Attorney General, and this proceeding gave great offense to Mr. Johnson. Gen. McDowell is expected here early next week.

Cost of Impeachment.

It turns out in financial debate to-day that the whole expense of the impeachment trial was a little short of fifteen thousand dollars, which is much less than was commonly supposed. This of course does not include the expenses of the investigation now going on by the House.

Admitted.

Representative Hamilton, sole member from Florida, was sworn in to-day. Walsh, the other Senator from that State, is expected here in a day or two from New York. Hamilton's admission makes the number of members of the House 199, and a quorum is now 99.

FROM BEAVER FALLS.

Beaver Falls, Pa., June 30, 1868.

The Beaver Falls Band got up for the benefit of the poor of the Beaver Falls Second Presbyterian Church, has been an occasion of universal interest, and has done great credit to those who conducted it. It was, in the popular phrase, "a complete success," contributing to the attractive features of this scene of festivity were the graceful decorations of the hall with festoons and wreaths of evergreen—the leaves so tastefully arranged by fair hands into agreeable contrasts, and by lining the stands in such profusion—these things added to the beauty of the moonlight evenings, and the spontaneous designations of social feeling, which prevailed at the gathering into this groups of young men and charming maidens and those of maturer years, in different portions of the hall, and under the shadow of trees standing near by, from whose branches lamps of ghastly hue swayed light through the trembling leaves—all these things gave a charm and effect to the occasion hardly met with in the rigid formalities of more conventional life. Regretted to say, however, was the absence of the Beaver Falls Brass Band, and the luxury derived from the delicious strawberries, cherries and cool beverages. Under these circumstances, plodding and unimpressible indeed would be the man whose mood of mind would prompt him not to contribute to the object in view, and feel, if not much, were there.

Among other events of interest soon to transpire in the neighborhood, I might mention the picnic which is to be off at Riverside Grove, within the precincts of our village, under the auspices of St. George's Church. The Beaver Falls string Band and others will contribute to the musical department of the occasion.

On the same day, the Eagle Valley Lodge of Odd Fellows will hold a picnic in Harmony Park. This Park, or Square, has been only set aside by the Economy Society, to be an object of beauty and a grace of retreat to the present, and in the far after-time. Would not such a bright green spot be to the inhabitants of some busy city, as "the flutter of a green leaf in a weary mind?"

Large concourses of people are expected here on these occasions. Through the untiring exertions of Superintendent Lentz, every facility for the transportation of passengers will be afforded, by the running of excursion trains on that day, and the Agent, L. G. Bowman, will have taken his place, on the 1st inst., at the counter of the office, where he will receive and distribute all their city. They will receive consideration the extraordinary rapidity with which the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne road is being constructed.

It does seem to us that the people east and west of us, would be the height of folly not to create if they do not take half with us here—[illegible] and hurry it on to completion. As a link connecting the great chain of railroads—the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne—Pittsburgh, in the [illegible] of the great interests of her future, should [illegible] to have the road completed—and that [illegible] to [illegible] the great interests of [illegible] and [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WEDNESDAY EVENING, July 1.

The money market is without essential change to-day. With the thermometer ranging at 90 degrees, there is little disposition to operate in either commercial or financial circles, more than is really imperative. Money is very abundant, and capitalists are puzzled to know where to place their unemployed balances. The cloud of doubt cast upon the national credit, by the unaccountable vote on General Cobb's resolution to tax the interest on Government bonds, has had a depressing effect upon Government securities. This action of the House, together with the uncertainty connected with the political movements of the country, has had a tendency to frighten the timid holders of bonds, who have parted with them hurriedly, thus weakening, for the time being, the market. The effect of the resolution will be seriously felt for a short time, but those best informed are positive that no such resolution can become a law.

—Gold improved a fraction in price to-day. Its fluctuations were from 140¼ to 140¾. The effect on the market which the large amount that Government is disbursing just now will have affecting rates seems to have already been discounted.

The specie exports, as usual, will be considerable in July in the absence of shipments of produce, the remittance of coin being thus necessary in payment of interest due to foreign holders of bonds. How large a share of such will be taken from the country in coin will depend largely upon the action of Congress in regard to taxing the bondholder, and, perhaps, upon the declarations of the Democratic National Convention.

—The New York railway market has been more animated to-day. Prices on the whole list have advanced, and have nearly recovered the loss sustained at the late decline. The market closed strong at higher prices.

The following comparative statement, furnished by J. W. Kennedy, Broker, 80 Fourth street, shows the range of prices for the past week at the New York Stock Boards:

—Governments are weak and declining. The action of the House to tax the interest on Government bonds has had an appreciable effect on the market, and it will require further action in the same quarter to restore confidence. Prices to-day are lower.

Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co., report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

—A Chicago journal of Friday, in referring to local monetary affairs, says: By some of the banks a better demand for money is reported, but this is not general, and though there is a positive improvement in that respect over the condition of a month ago, there was none during the past few days. Balances to mercantile accounts are, however, not increasing, and country banks having drawn down their accounts some, have left a smaller amount of loanable funds at the disposal of the banks here, though it is still in excess of the demand for the discount of such paper as the banks care to take.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY EVENING, July 1, 1868.

During the past week the general markets of the city have been very quiet, with but a light volume of business doing, and there has been nothing of special interest transpiring to require any remarks of interest. The receipts of flour since our last issue were for Watt, Lang & Co., 160 bbls; E. H. Myers & Bro., 100; T. C. Jenkins, 200 bbls. Total, 360 bbls. The receipts reported yesterday were 2,100 bbls. Of other articles of produce we notice receipts of cheese 151 boxes; corn 120 sacks, wheat 250 sacks; rye 22 sacks, and barley 21 sacks.

The following are the current wholesale prices unless otherwise noted:

BACON, LARD, &C.—There has been a very good demand for all kinds during the week—in fact parties hardly for sugar cured hams, and prices are a little stronger. As yet we note no change. Sales reported 25,000 sugar cured hams at 17½@18c; 10,000 do shoulders at 13½c; 20,000 lbs rib sides at 13½@13¾c; 30,000 lbs clear sides at 12¾@13c; 20,000 lbs sugar cured canvassed, at 19@20c; 50 tierces lard at 12½@12¾c.

LARD OIL—Demand fair. Sales noted of 50 bbls No. 1 lard oil at $1 40; 50 bbls No. 2 lard oil at $1 20.

OIL CAKE—Sales reported at 2½@2¾c, and prospects favorable for a further decline. The stock on hand, however, is only for the time intervening between this and harvest. After the commencement of harvest prices are expected to advance as usual.

EGGS—Market dull at 20c ₱ dozen with a good supply on the market.

CHEESE—The receipts have been fair and the quality good. We quote W. R. at 13½c; Factory at 13c; country at 9c, and Limburg at 10c ₱ lb.

CABBAGE—Eastern cabbage sold at $4 50 ₱ bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Small sales of peaches at 11½@12c, and apples at 6½c ₱ lb.

Groceries.

The demand for groceries still continues very fair though the market is not so active as it has been. We note no material changes since our last report, and quote as follows:

COFFEE—Government Java, in bags, 37c; in mats, 36c; Laguayra, 36@37c; Rio, Fancy, 27½c; choice, 27c; prime, 26c; fair 25c; good, 23c.

PEARL ASHES—From store we quote pearls at 10@10½c ₱ lb.

SEEDS—For flaxseed there is a moderate inquiry at $2 30@2 35 ₱ bush. There is no demand whatever for clover or timothy seed.

HOMINY—From store small sales were made at $4 25@4 50 ₱ bbl.

WHISKY—Under the impression that the tax on whisky will be reduced, prices have materially declined and at present the market rules dull. We quote rectified whisky at $1 60; half rye old whisky $2 75, and pure old rye whisky $3 00@4 00 ₱ gal, as to age and quality.

CORN MEAL—We quote corn meal by the barrel of 200 lbs at $4 50 ₱ bbl.

FLOUR—The market was very active. T. C. Jenkins bought the heaviest sales of the season for any one day and some sales to parties that have not been on the market for several months before. The demand appears to be only for reliable and established brands. Prices are unchanged here, yet there are no margins for dealers at the current prices over Chicago rates and freight. No particular inducements now for operators save to supply their trade. Dayton Snow Flake $12 00; White River $11 50; Jenkins', Lily $11 00; Crossett's $10 75; good spring $10 25@10 50; medium $9 00@10 00.

GRAIN—There is a fair inquiry for oats at 75@77c on the track and receipts very light. Corn, shelled and ear is nominally $1@1 05 ₱ bush on track and elevator. Rye is in be ter request at $1 60@1 65 ₱ bush. Old red winter and white wheat is only moderately inquired for at $2 25@2 35 ₱ bush, as to quality. The mills in this vicinity look for new wheat in a day or two. It belg now on the way by rail from Tennessee. No heavy offering and no demand.

By reference to our Chicago dispatch it will be seen that the corner on No. 2 wheat gave way this morning, and prices declined 6c on the bushel, with sales at $1 79@1 80 cash.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, July 2, 1868.

BURNING—The oil market was steady, with a fair inquiry, particularly for July and August delivery. Those seem to be the favored months at present. PITTSBURGH DRY GOODS MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY, July 1, 1868.

The only demand for goods during the past week has been to sort up with and therefore but little is doing.

The usual July settlements and stock taking are now claiming the attention of our jobbers and collections are being looked after. Country dealers are paying slowly and the days of prompt thirty day men are past. With out of town dealers seems to be entirely passed. Dealers who live in wool districts promise settlements when the wool is sold, and the time for that is expected to help the financial position some little.

We note a slight advance in heavy sheeting, and quote:

Ashton..... 17@17½c
Eagle..... 17@17½c
White Rock..... 17@17½c

In prints but little is doing; light styles are offered at 12½c but good dark patterns cannot be had at less than 13@14c, and the latter prices are expected to prevail at the opening of the fall trade.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY, July 1, 1868.

There has been considerable wool purchased in this market within the last week at a range of from 32c to 45c, and at this time there is very little demand for fine wools as there are outside price named. There don't seem to be any orders from manufacturers yet that we hear of, as they can buy at relatively lower prices East. There seems to be a disposition among holders in some sections to sell freely, while in other sections there has been none sold. In the State of Ohio, from our best information, fully one-half of the clip is now sold at from 36c to 45c. We find from our dealers here that the wool is in better condition this season than last, and we do hope the farmers will try hereafter to sustain the reputation of having their wool in good condition, as it will always save trouble and sometimes litigation. We do not see any prospect for an advance in wool until the market for woolen goods improves.

HOPS.

There is no improvement in the trade. Brewers only buy, says a New York circular of Saturday last, when bargains are offered them. Choice State and Wisconsin hops are in somewhat better request, and desirable parcels meet with ready sale at our highest quotations. Low and medium grades are dull and nominal. A number of hop yards in the southern portion of Sank county, Wis., were considerably damaged by the violation of a hail storm on the 5th inst. We also hear of some damage being done by a late frost in the northern part of the same county. In other respects our advices from the growing crops are favorable. The area of hops grown in this (New York) State, whose cultivation has shown so great improvement, either abandon them altogether or reduce the acreage to such limits as may be in the most sensible, while viewing the fact as being very encouraging prospect of the largest hop crop ever produced in this State. Imports into New York this week: From Hamburg 50 bales; from Bremen, 50 do; from Antwerp, 50 do; from Liverpool, 50 do; from Havre, 50 do; from Rotterdam, 50 do; from Mexico, 1 bale. The last number of the Bremen Circular reviews the market of this week: "If less are describing and demand very limited for the season of the year. Stocks in first hands are small, the growing districts are most favorable. Never was the crop in the ground at this time; as a set-off to which, some complain of the lice. We had every appearance of a most prolific yield, the result was that we were obliged to purchase heavily, except in 1858. But this we know: In 1848 the vine was very strong, but not productive; in 1849 the year the vine is remarkably healthy, but the vermin have all the berries destroyed. Hence the difference between prospects in 1848 and 1868 at the same period. Imports of hops into Bremen from September 1, 1867, to June 12, this year, 97,500 bales."
